

Stove Explodes, DeAnn Man Is Badly Burned

Ed Palmer, about 60, was critically burned about 11:15 a. m. today when a coal oil stove exploded at his home near DeAnn. Palmer suffered severe burns about the head, hands and back. Some of the burns are third degree.

Apparently, Palmer, who lived alone, was cooking lunch when the stove exploded. With clothing afire, he ran from the house and a couple of nearby workers caught him and put out the blaze.

He was rushed to a local hospital by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance. His house and possessions were destroyed by the fire.

Passenger Train Derails, 11 Injured

ATKINS, Iowa (AP)—The swift Milwaukee Road Arrow, with 99 sleeping passengers aboard, was derailed in the Atkins railroad yards early today.

Authorities said 11 persons — 9 passengers and 2 crewmen — were brought to St. Luke's Hospital in nearby Cedar Rapids. At least 20 other passengers were bruised and shaken up, but did not require hospitalization.

The Chicago-bound Arrow, one of the Milwaukee Road's finest trains, was made up of two coaches, a pullman, three baggage and mail cars, and a twin diesel unit.

All cars except the first diesel unit were derailed but remained upright. The skidding cars tore up about 1,000 feet of track on the main line.

The nine injured passengers were identified by the hospital as John Bopis, 60, Milwaukee, Wis., possibly fractured ribs and left shoulder; Dorothy Eberly, 62, Harvey, Ill., injuries to left leg; Blanche Esplaned, 34, Centerville, S.D., fractured ribs; and Mary Olson, 64, Centerville, S.D., fractured ribs.

Airmen Thank General for Helping Them

By EUGENE KRAMER

TOKYO (AP)—Seven U.S. airmen thanked a general today for overriding a cologne whose vacation plans bumped the fliers off a plane bound for the United States.

Even so, one of the enlisted men was delayed in reaching the bedside of his critically ill mother. She died before he could get home.

All the enlisted men were on emergency leave. The colonel, bound with his family for a vacation in Hawaii, took over the U. S. military aircraft that was to carry them home from Tokyo.

The Air Force said the plane was ordered back 30 minutes after leaving Japan, when one of the stranded soldiers telephoned Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of U.S. forces in Japan.

The lieutenant colonel bumped from the plane with his wife and four children, was identified as Charles "Platt" M. Commander of the passenger terminal at Tachikawa in outer Tokyo, the plane's origin.

The colonel was asked to remain in Japan pending investigation of the incident, canceled his vacation and returned to duty, the Air Force said. He could not be reached for comment.

An Air Force spokesman said Platt might "be completely innocent in the affair." But one of the enlisted men said the colonel was "very provoked at being bumped by lower-ranking airmen."

School Bus, Car Collision Leaves 4 Hurt

A school bus and an auto collision at Emmet early this morning left four persons injured, two seriously, according to Arkansas State Police.

Officers said a Yenger High School bus, driven by Jim Jones, turned left on Highway 87 into the path of a Prescott car driven by Mrs. Clarence Crane.

Mrs. Crane and Mrs. Brigham of Prescott were believed seriously hurt. Two other occupants, a Mrs. Taylor and a Mrs. Chandler, both of Prescott, were treated and released at a Prescott hospital. No body was hurt on the school bus.

Officers charged Jones with failure to yield the right-of-way. The auto was badly damaged. Investigating was Sheriff Hale and Police Chief Johnson of Prescott. Officers Himes and Downing of the State Police.

Surprised at Veto of School Bill Opening

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock said today he was surprised by Gov. Orval E. Faubus' recent veto of a bill which would have opened this city's four closed public high schools in September.

Howell said Faubus had told him earlier he had no objection to the bill.

When he vetoed the measure Tuesday, the governor said it would have weakened his school closing power under the anti-integration law enacted by a special legislative session last summer.

The vetoed bill, which was co-sponsored in the 1958 General Assembly by Howell, would have returned control of the closed schools to the Little Rock School Board.

The board would have had to open the schools under Arkansas pupil assignment law, which means provides for pupil assignment on the basis of race, color, religion and sex.

Faubus prohibited the four high schools from opening last September to avert court-ordered integration. Under the vetoed bill, he could have done this again if he chose.

Howell said he had not been in contact with the governor since the General Assembly adjourned March 12.

(Sen. Ellis M. Fagan of Little Rock and Pulaski Reps. Sterling Cockrell and Tom Tyler also expressed surprise over the veto.)

Chinese Admit Tibet Dalai Lama Escaped

LONDON (AP)—Red China's radio declared today Tibet's Dalai Lama has taken refuge in India.

The broadcast, quoting the New China News Agency, said the Dalai Lama left Tibet "under duress by the rebellious elements."

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's official Central News Agency reported today that Tibetan rebels and Chinese Communist troops are still fighting 165 miles northeast of Lhasa as well as near the Tibetan capital.

The Central News Agency report said more than 100 Communist troops were killed Monday and Tuesday in the Helio area and fighting was still in progress. Communist reinforcements from Sinkiang, bound for Lhasa, were reported to have arrived at Helio, a small highway town 105 miles northeast of the capital and 60 miles from Tibet's frontier with the Chinese province of Tsinghai.

The report also said the rebels controlled the highway between Lhasa and Shigatse, the second largest town in Tibet 140 miles southwest of Lhasa and the site of the monastery headed by the Panchen Lama.

This report, if correct, could mean that the Panchen Lama, named by the Dalai Lama as head of the Tibetan local government, so far could not reach the capital. The Communist radio had reported he still in Shigatse on Monday. There was a possibility, however, that the Reds plan for him to "govern" from Shigatse since his following in Lhasa presumably is small.

Communist reports charged that the rebels paid the torals to a 600-year-old Moslem mosque, and burned it down, 20 miles northeast of Moslem minority.

Usually reliable sources at the Indian border town of Kalimpong said the Reds were moving 100 truckloads of Tibetans out of Lhasa daily, taking them to unknown destinations. The report said Tibetan officials along roads leading south to India were being arrested.

There still was no information on the whereabouts of the Dalai Lama, who is believed to be with the rebels in southern Tibet and perhaps trying to reach asylum in India.

Russia Warns Against Airlift to Aid Berlin

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union warned today American and Soviet planes could collide accidentally in West Berlin's air corridors if the United States persists in sending in high flying aircraft.

"We do not know what consequences such a collision would have," a Soviet Embassy spokesman in East Berlin told newsmen. The statement came as both Washington and Moscow refused to back off in the dispute over air access rights to this isolated city.

Responsible informants said the United States intended to give the Soviet-specified 10,000-foot ceiling and dispatch high-flying planes as necessary to supply the U. S. garrison here.

A high-altitude C130 turboprop Hercules transport stood on a U. S. base somewhere in Western Europe awaiting Washington's green light before winging to Berlin on a new test run. A plan to order a second test flight Wednesday was reported postponed.

The Soviet spokesman, Benjamin Sululov, said there was no change in the Soviet stand. The Soviets have warned that any Allied plane coming over 10,000 feet will be operating at its own risk.

Boys School Board May Fire Four

By JACK MARTIN

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The superintendent, his wife and two others were dismissed today as employees of the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial School, where 21 inmates died in a fire last March 5.

Twelve others on the school staff resigned.

J. R. Gaines, the superintendent, told newsmen he submitted his resignation before the Board of Trustees of the school began a meeting, which was closed to reporters.

Alfred E. Smith of Paragould, the board chairman, made no mention of Gaines' resignation when he met reporters after the meeting.

He said Gaines, Mrs. Gaines, B. T. Pumphrey and Wilson Hall Jr. were being dismissed.

Smith said Gaines was being discharged because of "negligence" in connection with the school fire and Hall, the farm manager, because he had given "unreliable information" in an investigation of the tragedy.

Mrs. Gaines was carried on the payroll even though she had an other full time job, Smith said. Pumphrey did little work at the institution, he said.

It was after he had read a formal statement about the dismissals that Smith disclosed resignations of the other employees, who were Continued on Page Two

Cost at Teachers College Goes Up

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—It's going to cost more to attend Arkansas State Teachers College next year as well as the University of Arkansas, it was disclosed here today.

President Elias D. Snow of ASTC said tuition in his school would be increased to $75 per semester effective in September. At present it's $60.

The University of Arkansas Board of Trustees earlier this week approved raises in student fees to help meet increased operating expenses.

Snow said ASTC was following a pattern established by all other state colleges in boosting tuition next year. He said the ASTC trustees decided on the action because of financial needs.

No state college will charge a lower tuition than ASTC, Snow said, and some have fixed the same low rate.

New Crisis Has the Middle East Jittery

JERUSALEM (Israeli Sector AP)—The Israeli government worked overtime today to calm new war fears in the Middle East, caused by a coded broadcast Wednesday night calling up Israeli army reserves.

The army said the announcement should have been a routine notice to three reserve units being called for training maneuvers. But the army said the government radio had broadcast it in a way likely to create panic in the country and misunderstanding abroad.

Neighboring Syria had immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and put five army reserve formations on 24-hour notice. Damascus radio said Syria had taken all necessary measures to defend herself in the wake of the Israeli announcement.

Jordan's higher defense council held a late-night emergency meeting and announced it was taking all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security. The communique, broadcast by the government radio in Amman, did not specify what measures were being taken.

Shortly after the Israeli broadcast, which gave the impression of a large-scale mobilization effort, Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in Parliament to express the government's regret over the misunderstanding.

Premier David Ben-Gurion, who is also Israel's defense minister, met this morning with heads of the armed services. Afterward a spokesman said the incorrect version of the army chief of staff's order as broadcast corresponds in no way to the decision or original intention of general headquarters.

Ben-Gurion named a special committee to find out who was responsible for the broadcast.

El Dorado Will Buy Water Works

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The city will buy the El Dorado Water Co. as part of its program to halt pollution of the Ouachita River as city will buy the El Dorado Water Pollution Control Commission.

The City Council last night approved the water company purchase for $2,728,000.

Revenue from the company will be used to retire a $3,300,000 bond issue. The bond issue money will be spent to construct sewage disposal facilities to halt the river pollution and to purchase the water company.

Praises NATO, Asks Proposals Be Realistic

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower lauded the 10-year-old North Atlantic Treaty Organization today as a powerful barrier against communism, but cautioned the Allies to prepare for more years of tension and bloodshed with the Soviet Union.

He called on the free world for unity, strength and perseverance to win the struggle for a true and lasting peace despite the Communist "menace and threats."

And he promised: "Those who respect the dignity of man will not fall before the magnitude of the task."

He offered every possible negotiation with the Soviet Union which holds "promise of constructive results." But he cautioned against the danger of "substituting illusion for reality."

The President, himself a former supreme commander of NATO military forces, was the central figure at the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers, immediately before him was an audience of 1,400 Cabinet members, Allied diplomats, Western military leaders and representatives of the world press.

Ranked in a semicircle on the stage behind him were the foreign ministers or other delegation chiefs of the 16 Allied governments, their flags colorful in the focus of floodlights with white and white NATO flags high over the stage.

The meeting was held in the interdepartmental auditorium.

Eisenhower and the other speakers—Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak and Council President Joseph M. A. D. Luns of the Netherlands—projected NATO's policy along double lines into the indefinite future.

He said the Communist threat is at least as great as it was 10 years ago, so that NATO must strengthen itself. They stressed the need to negotiate solid agreements with the Soviet Union when possible.

Eisenhower said that since the alliance was formed "there has been no further Communist advance in Europe either by political or military means."

He went on to say that "we must be prepared during the years ahead to live in a world in which tension and bickering between free nations and the Soviet will be daily experiences."

The real need for world peace, Eisenhower said, is that the Communists abandon their "purpose of world domination."

"We shall never cease to encourage such a change," he said, but added that free men must be prepared for years of tension and bickering with a force that menaces the very spiritual foundations of Western civilization.

Eisenhower addressed himself mainly to the long-range problems of a troubled world and gave only passing mention to the Berlin crisis which lends urgency to the NATO meeting.

Speaking in apparent reference to the upcoming foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union on the Berlin and related problems, and the probable summit session to follow, Eisenhower said: "We shall always keep open the door of honest discussion—even to those whose creed is world domination."

"We shall continue to make concrete and realistic proposals for disarmament, for a just solution to the problems of Germany, for European security and for cooperation in the newly opening realm of outer space," he said.

NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak, on the speakers list just ahead of Eisenhower, applied himself more directly to current matters.

He told the Council in a prepared speech that the Soviet Union by raising the issue of ouster Continued on Page Two of Western forces from Berlin "is playing a game in which the ultimate stake is the very existence of our European political institutions and defense systems."

Spaak reminded his audience that the Soviet Union continues to strengthen its military power and said it is now launching a political offensive against Europe itself.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance met here today for the first time in 10 years to hear a major foreign policy speech by President Eisenhower and assess NATO's readiness for meeting the Berlin crisis.
Eisenhower was scheduled to address the public opening session.
The first business session of the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers to discuss the Soviet threat to Berlin will be held in the afternoon. In and learn the general lines the United States, Britain, France and West Germany so far have developed for meeting it.
Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary general of the defense organization, at a news conference Wednesday night summed up the theme of his Washington sessions insofar as the Berlin problem is concerned by emphasizing the grave dangers which Berlin holds for the West.
"I don't believe we'll have a war," Spaak said, "but if we don't have a war we cannot suffer a diplomatic defeat in Berlin. It might be the first sign of a disintegration of the alliance and of the West."
How to avoid a military showdown and at the same time prevent the Soviets from scoring a diplomatic victory with their pressures on Berlin has occupied the US, British, French and West German foreign ministers here for two days.

They concluded their intensive discussions of negotiating proposals and strategy Wednesday night. Informants reported that they had failed to resolve all their differences over how to deal with the Soviets at a foreign ministers conference at Geneva in May but they did reach some agreement.
The talks of the Western Big Four cleared the way for debate on the Berlin issue in the larger NATO group of 15 foreign ministers.

Military pomp and ceremony, symbolizing the strength which NATO has been able to generate over a troubled decade, were arranged to dramatize today's gathering in the same great hall in which the NATO treaty was signed April 4, 1949.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told the North Atlantic Council today that the Western powers intend to make "concrete and realistic proposals" to the Soviet Union for agreements on disarmament, German, European security and outer space.
He said the (red) need for world peace is that the Communists abandon their "purpose of world domination."
In a speech prepared for the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the 15-nation alliance, Eisenhower said that though they strive for settlement, the free nations must expect to live in an atmosphere of tension and conflict with the Soviet Union for years.

To meet that test successfully the greatest need of the non-Communist world is unity and unity is "the very life blood of NATO," he said.
Eisenhower was the headline speaker at the opening ceremonial session.
He referred only briefly to the about half Negroes, heard the verdict and then fled out quietly. About 80 police officers were stationed about the courtroom.
The victim of the attack testified on the first day of the trial Tuesday.
Only two witnesses were called for the defense—Mitchell's parents, who are divorced.
The death penalty assessed against Mitchell was the first such verdict to be returned by a Circuit Court jury here since 1937.
The 1937 verdict was brought in against Tom Hutto, who was convicted of first degree murder for the slaying of an El Dorado policeman.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) was prosecuting attorney at the Hutto trial. Harris was in the courtroom yesterday when the verdict against Mitchell was returned.
Hutto was electrocuted Sept. 3, 1937.

Boys School

Obviously had made it plain they thought Gaines was being persecuted in the investigation.
Only three old staff members now remain, but those remaining will stay in the school until successors are hired, Smith said.
Dismissal of Gaines and the three others at the Wrightsville School was recommended by Gov. Orval E. Faubus after he studied a State Police report of the slaying.
Faubus said the report showed negligence on the part of staff members of the school for delinquent boys.
The youths who were killed were in a locked dormitory with 40 other boys when the fire broke out before dawn. No one in the building had a key. The 48 other escaped by breaking through a heavy wire screen at the window.
The state claims Commission yesterday said it will be some time yet before a definite hearing date is set on claims arising from the deaths of the youths.
R. Campbell of Hot Springs, a member of the commission, said Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett will have much to say about when the hearing is held. Bennett will represent the state.
Claims totaling $275,000 have been filed for the deaths of 10 of the youths. The commission expects other claims to be filed.
D. L. Ford of Fort Smith and James A. Ross of Monticello, other members of the three-man commission, said they expected the lawyers, representing the parents

Fog Cripples Activities in New York

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy crippling fog blanketed New York area for the second day today while tornadoes struck two communities in Florida. The high winds killed one person, injured at least nine others, and caused damage estimated at more than a million dollars.
At least two lives were lost as a result of the fog blanketing New York, many airplane flights were canceled, and the heat-zero visibility anchored the liner Queen Mary—the world's largest—near the exit to New York Harbor. Idlewild Airport was shut down overnight and La Guardia's business was limited to the taking of eight planes.
The Florida tornadoes hit Dade City, about 20 miles west of Orlando and Azalea Park, a suburb of Orlando. The sheriff's office here said one property, damaged to some million dollars at Dade City, many houses and business buildings there were damaged or destroyed and power lines were torn down.
One death was reported at Azalea Park and at least seven were injured. The Weather Bureau warned of further possible damaging winds in south and east-central Florida, but added that further fatalities were not likely.
April showers, meanwhile, continued to splash across in the eastern third of the nation and the far Northwest, but fair weather prevailed in the major part of the country.

The stormy weather, which struck the central plains Tuesday and Wednesday ended. Seven persons were killed and 60 others injured in Texas and Oklahoma hit by tornadoes and severe thunderstorms.
The biggest precipitation belt during the early morning was and Bennett to work out a hearing date agreement.
The commission will try to consolidate the cases for hearing.
Any awards made by the commission could not be paid until approved by the 1961 General Assembly.

Second Trial for Accused Slayer

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Frank Andrew Payne, 23-year-old Negro accused of murdering his white employer, will go on trial in Circuit Court here Tuesday for the second time.
The new trial was scheduled to begin yesterday but was postponed because two state witnesses did not appear.
Prosecuting Atty. E. W. Brockman Jr. said Dr. Anderson Nettleship, former state medical examiner, claimed immunity to subpoena as a federal employee. Nettleship now is employed at a Veterans Administration hospital at Fayetteville.
Brockman said the other witness, Solomon Davis, a Pine Bluff Negro, disappeared after being served with a subpoena.
Both men testified for the state in the 1956 trial at which Payne was convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death in the fatal beating during a robbery of lumberman J. N. Robertson.

Obviously had made it plain they thought Gaines was being persecuted in the investigation.
Only three old staff members now remain, but those remaining will stay in the school until successors are hired, Smith said.
Dismissal of Gaines and the three others at the Wrightsville School was recommended by Gov. Orval E. Faubus after he studied a State Police report of the slaying.
Faubus said the report showed negligence on the part of staff members of the school for delinquent boys.
The youths who were killed were in a locked dormitory with 40 other boys when the fire broke out before dawn. No one in the building had a key. The 48 other escaped by breaking through a heavy wire screen at the window.
The state claims Commission yesterday said it will be some time yet before a definite hearing date is set on claims arising from the deaths of the youths.
R. Campbell of Hot Springs, a member of the commission, said Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett will have much to say about when the hearing is held. Bennett will represent the state.
Claims totaling $275,000 have been filed for the deaths of 10 of the youths. The commission expects other claims to be filed.
D. L. Ford of Fort Smith and James A. Ross of Monticello, other members of the three-man commission, said they expected the lawyers, representing the parents

Fog Cripples Activities in New York

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy crippling fog blanketed New York area for the second day today while tornadoes struck two communities in Florida. The high winds killed one person, injured at least nine others, and caused damage estimated at more than a million dollars.
At least two lives were lost as a result of the fog blanketing New York, many airplane flights were canceled, and the heat-zero visibility anchored the liner Queen Mary—the world's largest—near the exit to New York Harbor. Idlewild Airport was shut down overnight and La Guardia's business was limited to the taking of eight planes.
The Florida tornadoes hit Dade City, about 20 miles west of Orlando and Azalea Park, a suburb of Orlando. The sheriff's office here said one property, damaged to some million dollars at Dade City, many houses and business buildings there were damaged or destroyed and power lines were torn down.
One death was reported at Azalea Park and at least seven were injured. The Weather Bureau warned of further possible damaging winds in south and east-central Florida, but added that further fatalities were not likely.
April showers, meanwhile, continued to splash across in the eastern third of the nation and the far Northwest, but fair weather prevailed in the major part of the country.

Watkins-Aydelott Exchange Vows

Candlelight, southern smilax and woodwardia fern created an atmosphere of simplicity for the wedding of Jody Watkins and Zed Aydelott Jr. in the First Presbyterian Church of Hope, Ark. at four o'clock, March 28th. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Eubank Watkins and the groom is the son of Mrs. Jones Aydelott of Miami, Fla. and Zed Aydelott Sr. of Memphis, Tenn. The Reverend Rufus Sorrells heard the nuptial vows. He was assisted by Dr. L. T. Lawrence.

The center aisle of the church was illumined with new candles rising from white satin ribbons and smilax. Smilax also entwined the candelabrum on each side of the sanctuary and the chancel rails. Planking the candelabrum were baskets filled with graceful fronds of woodwardia fern. In the center of the sanctuary a background was formed by glowing tapers in graduated candelabra.

The tapers were lighted by Miss Gianne Graves and Miss Barbara Guthrie who wore identical afternoon length dresses of aqua organza over tulle. Soft folds of the organza formed the dipped neckline. Across the fitted bodice and circular skirts was a spray of white lace flowers. Their circlet veils were scalloped with tiny points of velvet. They wore wristlet corsages of white daisies.

As the guests were seated, Mr. Luther Holloman, at the organ, played traditional wedding music.

The guests were seated by John Fleming of Memphis, Dorsey McRae, T. M. Martin, Pooler, Jr. and John Watkins, brother of the bride, who also served as groomsmen. Mr. Aydelott's best man was William Dwyer of Nashville, Tennessee.

Entering the setting of lapers and greenery to take their places with the groomsmen were Miss Ann Watkins, her sister's junior bridesmaid and Miss Sandra Marwood, of Little Rock, the maid of honor. Miss Watkins in aqua and Miss Marwood in maize wore afternoon length dresses of organza over tulle. The tucked bodices were designed with scooped necklines and brief sleeves. Matching satin trim encircled the waists and fell over the circular skirts into wide back panels. Their circlet veils and shoes complemented their dresses. They wore short white gloves and carried cascades of white daisies and ivy.

As Wagner's Processional was played, the bride entered with her father. She wore an afternoon length dress of white Alencon lace. Patterns of lace edged the dropped shoulders and brief sleeves. The form fitted bodice cascaded into a very full skirt poised over tulle and net. Her French illusion, shoulder length veil fell from a shallow scalloped headpiece covered with flower patterns of Alencon lace outlined in seed pearls and highlighted with sequins and pearl droplets. She carried a handkerchief which has been a bridal accessory in three generations of her maternal family. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of gardenias and roses entwined with ivy.

As the bridal couple repeated their vows, before the background of tapers and smilax, the strains of "O Perfect Love" were softly played. The bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the parlor of the church following the ceremony. Receiving with the bridal couple were her attendants: Mrs. Mother, Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Zed Aydelott Sr.

Mrs. Watkins' dress was of French blue silk, fashioned with a white lace embroidered with delicate white daisies. Scooped neckline and short skirt with a side drape. Her hair was of matching French blue flowers. She planned her corsage of blue cornflowers on a white beaded bag.

Mrs. Aydelott wore a burgundy silk shantung dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Candles burned above white daisies and ivy at the table on which lay the bride's book. The guests were asked to sign by Mrs. Charles Wilson Sr. aunt of the bride and Mrs. John Aydelott, aunt of the groom.

The bride's table was laid with a floor length cloth of white tulle over taffeta. Swags of tulle were caught with roses and lilies of the valley. The double wedding ring cake was centered and encircled with gardenias and ivy. A five branched candelabra, ornamented with gardenias and ivy, completed the floral decor.

Alternating at the bride's table were Mrs. Albert Graves, Mrs. James Branch, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson and Mrs. Vincent Foster, aunt of the bride.

When the couple left for a brief wedding trip to Hot Springs, the bride was attired in a Navy wool suit with matching shoes and bag. Her white Breton sailor was trimmed in navy. She pinned a gardenia corsage at her shoulder.

The couple will reside at 760 Adams Street, Apartment 102 in Memphis.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Martin of Idabel, Okla.; Charles Darlington Jr., Elizabeth and Charles of Little Rock; Sonny Hartsell of Camden; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Miss Janelle Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams of Nashville; Mrs. Bob Williams of Big Springs, Texas; Miss Beryl Henry of Benton; Mrs. Ben Flora of Brinkley; John Aydelott of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. James Branch Jr. of Little Rock.

Cosmopolitan Club Met in Moses Home

On March 31 the Cosmopolitan Club met at Mrs. Perry Moses' home with Mrs. P. L. Perkins as her assistant hostess. Arrangements of iris, lilies, and red bud enhanced the home.

Instead of a book review, the ladies heard interesting excerpts from letters written by Miss Janet McKenzie (Vivian) Europe. These were presented by Mrs. Jim McKenzie. Mrs. L. T. Lawrence had a "Secret" concerning Abraham Lincoln's grandfather, but she was unable to stump the panel.

A delicious salad plate with coffee or speed tea were served to 19 club members and one guest.

Trade Seems to Be Going Well for Cardinals

By JACK CLARY, Associated Press Sports Writer

The first returns are in on last week's controversial Sam Jones Bill. While trade between the St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Giants looks like Card Gen. Manager Bing Devine might not have gotten the bad end after all.

Devine was criticized for giving Jones his pitching mound last season with a 14-13 record. But the Cardinals, who have only little more than a season of major league experience.

Jones, in his first start for Cardinals, was blasted for nine hits and 10 runs in four innings Wednesday by the Chicago Cubs who beat the Cardinals, 10-6. Among the hits were three run homers by Frankie George Altman and Monse Morin.

On the other hand, White has made a more favorable impression on Cards manager Solly Hemus.

At least until his error paved the way for a five-run New York Yankee ninth inning that gave the world champions a 5-1 victory Wednesday.

White decided before the game to give White the first base job and move Joe Cunningham to right field. White has hit three home runs and batted over 300 since joining the Cardinals. Cunningham has been hitting under .200 all spring.

In other exhibition games, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4, Los Angeles shutout the Philadelphia Phillies 8 to 0, Cincinnati defeated Washington 6-4, the Chicago White Sox humbled the Milwaukee Braves 8-3, the Kansas City A's won over Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in a 12th inning night game.

Rookie Jerry Casale's wild pitch let in the winning Cleveland run in the eighth inning. The Indians' Herb Score pitched on homers by Sam Rice and Frank Malzone but struck out eight.

Bill Hodges' homer and double, and Duke Snider's triple and double powered Los Angeles to its victory while Eddie Kasko's eighth inning triple sparked the Cincinnati win.

The White Sox routed Joey Jay with a five-run eighth inning, in its victory and A's pinchhitter Preston Ward slammed a two-run homer in the ninth inning to beat the Tigers.

Al Pillarick singled in the 12th inning to give Baltimore its victory scoring John Ensign from second base.

In other major league trading action, the Baltimore Orioles traded Jim

Harris Beats Fleeman in Texas Fight

By WHITEY SWAYER, DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Roy Harris possessed about $5,500, a cut forehead and another victory over Donnie Fleeman today, but his manager didn't think he was any closer to a rematch with World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

"I don't think so," Lou Viscusi, Harris' manager, laughed when asked whether he thought the one-sided victory brought the Texas heavyweight champion from Clit and shot any closer to a rematch with Patterson. Patterson cut Harris to ribbons last year for a TKO.

Previously Viscusi, of Houston, had said he felt if Harris won big it would help him toward a rematch.

Harris won a lopsided margin over Fleeman, but he had to jab his way to it from behind a mask of blood. Late in the fight Harris landed freely, but was unable to score a knockdown Wednesday night.

A butt in the second round opened a ragged, two-inch cut over Roy's eye. It bled badly until after the seventh, when his second stopped the bleeding and Fleeman was unable to hit him and reopen the cut.

Fleeman, 483, of Midlothian, Tex., looked good in the early rounds, especially the second and third, but he faded badly and was a well beaten fighter by the end of the 12 round, nationally televised bout.

Harris weighed 198.

ELECTRONIC DOGFIGHT

Fighter planes move so fast now that sighting a plane's missiles on the enemy is a problem. Sketches show how new G.E. optical sight attempts to simplify the difficulties. (Cross hairs and a moving arrowhead (called a "bug") do the job. 1—Sight is in front of pilot. Arrowhead appears in right margin of circle—showing firing range is too great. 2—Pilot maneuvers to get enemy plane centered in cross hairs. Arrowhead moves to right as distance narrows. 3—When arrowhead moves far enough to show enemy within range, letter "E" appears on glass. Pilot fires. 4—Screen goes blank and signal sounds in earphones warning pilot to change course and avoid debris.

Celtics Turn Back Syracuse in Last Game

BOSTON (AP) — The mighty Boston Celtics feared only overconfidence against the upstart Minneapolis Lakers today while marking time before their series opener for pro basketball's world championship.

"We figure to beat the Lakers, but we have to guard against overconfidence," warned Bob Cousy, Boston's veteran backcourt maker.

"That's right," chimed in Coach Red Auerbach. "We've taken them easily the past two years and then they didn't figure to upset St. Louis. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

The Celtics streaked into a National Basketball Assn. title showdown with Minneapolis by coming down behind for a 130-125 victory over the suburban Syracuse Nationals Wednesday night in the seventh and deciding game of a torrid Eastern division final series.

The winner of the best-of-seven NBA championship series Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden will find the Celtics seeking their 19th straight triumph over Minneapolis. The Lakers last defeated the Boston club in the final game of the regular 1956-57 campaign.

Despite outward attempts to tone down confidence, the Celtics were unanimous in predicting they would regain the NBA crown they won two years ago.

"This is the greatest team ever—it didn't quit. It didn't quit," Auerbach cried happily in the dressing room.

Despite the strong, greatest tag by their coach, the Celtics had to rally from a 16-point deficit midway through the second period and then outbatter Syracuse in the closing minutes.

Frank Ramsey topped the Celtics with 28 points with a right forefinger encased in a cast.

Cousy had 23. The Celtics came back victory overshadowed a tremendous shooting display by Dolph Schayes and George Yardley. Schayes took individual honors with 35 points, while Yardley contributed 32.

Dulles Made Full Use of Conferences

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The absence of John Foster Dulles, ill with cancer, has left a vacuum in Washington at this time of trouble with the Soviet Union who could have been making the most use of his special technique.
That technique was to hold news conferences where he could do a number of jobs at once: Get across American viewpoints, state foreign policy positions, float trial balloons, answer the Soviets, try to put them on the defensive.
Secretary of State Dulles held more news conferences than any other member of President Eisenhower's Cabinet.
Undersecretary Christian A. Herter—the man who is taking Dulles' place—has not held a news conference since Dulles went to the hospital Feb. 9.
It is understandable that Herter should be reluctant to sound off. Although Dulles was in the hospital, Eisenhower consulted with him frequently and Herter could hardly try to run the show.
Eisenhower relied on Dulles in foreign affairs to an amazing degree, and delegated to him enormous power and responsibility, particularly as a spokesman.
Eisenhower's news conferences were never the same as Dulles' if only because he lacked Dulles' detailed knowledge of events abroad. But he also lacked Dulles' training and skill in language.

Eisenhower, with Dulles no longer at his side, in recent weeks has asserted more leadership in foreign affairs than when Dulles was in there carrying the ball. The President has been increasingly forceful.
Anyone who ever attended a Dulles news conference could not but admit he was a master at using the precise phrase to get the exact effect he sought.
A great deal which could be said about the Berlin crisis is going unsaid because Dulles isn't there. Herter has held no news conferences, and Eisenhower's news conferences provide about all the administration is saying on Berlin.
The recent conference here between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is a good example of how Dulles' presence on the scene is missed.
The British managed to pump out to correspondents—or to selected correspondents—the British viewpoint. The American viewpoint in the talks with Macmillan was much less publicized.
Dulles, if he had been around, would have taken care of that.
Ironically, it is possible the Soviets have agreed to a foreign ministers' meeting on Berlin—preliminary to a summit meeting—because it seems unlikely Dulles could attend it.
Before the Soviets ever created the Berlin crisis they were calling on Eisenhower early in 1958 to

Beef, Lamb to Be Market Features

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you had your fill of turkey and ham at Easter, switch this weekend to beef or lamb. Both are featured as specials by many grocery stores.
Ham and poultry are still the best buys. But some big food chains have chopped a few cents a pound from prices of chuck roast, rib roast, sirloin tip roast and leg of lamb.
Pork prices are also lower in some clubs.
Egg prices are the lowest in months.
Fresh fruits and vegetables are glutting big city markets.
The U.S. Agriculture Department lists these best vegetable buys:
New cabbage from Florida, iceberg lettuce from Arizona, pascal celery from Florida, and Chiffonina, Western carrots bunched or tipped, Western asparagus, bunched broccoli, Eastern potatoes, escarole, collards and kale.
Good buys include Western potatoes, round red potatoes from Florida, "storage sweet potatoes from New Jersey, spinach, endives and Michigan hot-house rhubarb.
Oranges are a top buy. Grapefruit, pineapples and bananas are plentiful and cheap.

Cancer Seeds May Lurk in Your Body

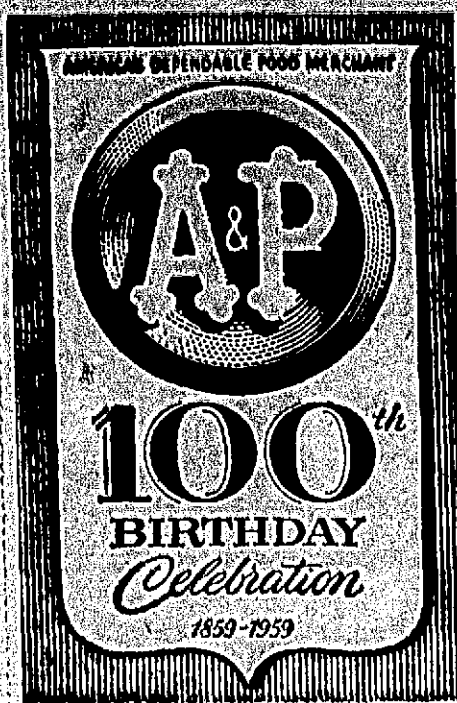

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The seeds of cancer may lurk in your body—an unwanted gift planted perhaps as long as 100,000 years ago in the cells of an ancestor.
Only a few such seeds among the trillions of cells of your body could start deadly, uncontrolled cancer.
As these seeds—perhaps sleeping viruses—were passed on generation to generation they may have awakened from time to time, bringing a sudden and unexpected cancer attack.
This is a theory expressed at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress by Dr. Ludwik Gross, cancer unit chief of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bronx, N.Y.
These sleeping viruses somehow hitchhike a ride through the centuries with the genes of the cell, getting passed along with inherited factors from one generation to the next, Dr. Gross suggested.
What awakens the deadly virus? Radiation—the chance hit of an atomic ray—might provide the trigger. Or some chemical poison unrecognized as dangerous might do the trick.
Dr. Gross has succeeded in following inherited leukemia through only a few generations of mice.
But he feels the theory explains why cancer seems to strike so often within certain families.
Describing his work on mouse leukemia, Dr. Gross told of a mysterious gland and the strange role it plays in cancer of the blood and blood-producing areas of the body.
The mystery gland is the thymus. In humans this little gland in the chest seems to have no function after birth.
But in mice stricken with leukemia, removal of the thymus means survival. Some mice were intentionally infected with leukemia and then operated on for removal of the thymus. They never developed the disease.
It is possible that the thymus is the target of the leukemia-causing virus, Dr. Gross said. The thymus may be the nest where the virus multiplies.

Wind Damages Plant at Paris

PARIS, Ark. (AP)—A windstorm believed to be a tornado heavily damaged a feed processing plant here last night.
Loss to the J. & M. Feed Mill was estimated by co-owner, William Jenkins, at $40,000.
At about the same time a twister carried a chicken house on a farm east of Paris some distance killing approximately 1,500 laying chickens and ruining the frame building. There was no estimate of monetary loss.
No one was injured.
The storm tore away approximately two-thirds of the roof of the concrete block and steel feed mill. One wall was blown down.
The chicken house was one of several on the Hursel-Henson farm. Three others were not damaged.

meet them at the summit.
They had long correspondence with the President about it. But early in that letter-writing campaign the then Premier Bulganin made it plain the Soviets did not want a foreign ministers meeting with Dulles.
Bulganin didn't mention Dulles by name but even so he was at most insulting in the way he told Eisenhower that trying to do business with Dulles, from the Soviet viewpoint, was no good.
It was only in March—after Dulles' condition had been diagnosed as cancer and it seemed probable he would never return to his post—that the Soviets agreed to a foreign ministers meeting before holding a summit conference.

Arkansans to Pay Tribute to McClellan

WASHINGTON (Special) — Several hundred Arkansans will join in honoring Sen. John L. McClellan when he receives the annual George Washington award of the American Good Government Society here April 30.

Sen. McClellan and Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Sulzberg were chosen by the society's trustees for the 1959 award, tendered each year to two prominent Americans "for outstanding contributions to good government."

Walter Bray, Dave Grundfest and Jack Pickens, all of Little Rock are arranging for Arkansas delegates to the annual convention of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in Washington, April 26-29, to attend the dinner at Washington's Sheraton Park Hotel.

McClellan will receive a handsome, illuminated scroll, containing a citation in words appropriate to describe his achievements for good government.

The American Good Government Society, organization of which predates World War II, is a bipartisan, civic, educational, non-profit group. "It is not a lobbying organization."

Burke Summers, president, explained the society's objectives as being "to help preserve the principles of sound, constitutional government, as laid down by the nation's founders, and to perpetuate the freedom insured our people by those principles."

A number of Arkansas leaders are members of the dinner committee, which also included prominent citizens from some 20 other states. In the Arkansas group are: Mr. C. E. Byrnes, Fort Smith; Sen. J. William Fulbright, Peter D. Jones, Hot Springs; Beverly Lambert, Jr., West Memphis; Hamilton, Moses, Little Rock; Charles Murphy, El Dorado; Harold Ohlendorf, Osceola; Jack Pickens, Little Rock; Dr. Epant Richardson, Fayetteville, and William H. Sadler, Little Rock.

Others on the dinner committee are Sen. and Mrs. Harry F. Byrd, Va.; Ben E. Parrless, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Laurens Hamilton, Va.; former President Herbert Hoover, New York; former Treasury Secretary and Mrs. George M. Humphrey, Ohio; Sen. and Mrs. Karl Mundt, S. D.; Gen. Wilton D. Parsons, Ala.; Sen. Richard B. Russell, former Gov. and Mrs. Allan Shivers, Texas; Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, Md.; and Gen. Robert E. Wood, Ill.

Among other southerners in the committee group are Mr. and Mrs. Erle Cocke, Jr., Ga.; Rep. and Mrs. William M. Colmer, Miss.; former Gov. and Mrs. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., Va.; and former Gov. Frank Dixon, Ala.

Trustees of the society, in addition to Summers and Payson, include former Texas Rep. George Ed Gossett, of Dallas; Frank C. Hanighen, publisher of Human Events, Washington; William Ingles, Washington; former U. S. Atty. Gen. J. Lee Marshall, Charleston, W. Va.; Rep. Carroll Reece, Johnson City, Tenn.; and J. News Briefs

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie named an investigating committee Tuesday to probe gasoline prices which range from 23-40 cents per gallon in Idaho.

The governor sent a telegram to 10 major oil companies saying he has learned that "some prices currently used in the trade violate the federal Unfair Sales Act and state antitrust statutes."

Smylie also asked the major oil companies to correct the situation.

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Manhattan Beach police are on patrol lot, and even at actress Diane Varsi has exited herself in Vermont, they expect her back here.

She was given a traffic citation March 18 and ordered to post $31 bail. She left without paying the fine or making a court appearance, so a warrant was issued for her arrest Tuesday.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two durable comics, George Burns and Milton Berle, are going into the television production business. They announced Tuesday that they had formed B & B Productions and will first tackle a series of 30 half-hour filmed shows. Berle, who has spent many years in live TV, will star in 13 of the canned programs and act as host on all of them. Burns will be executive producer.

The format calls for situation, farce, and musical comedy and variety programs.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-one school teachers — all female — crammed into a little room on Monday.

To discredit those silly college students who try to get the biggest crowds into tele- vision booths.

The high school and grade school teachers thronged into the room and trunk, as well as inside the VW, a German car.

New Code of Ethics Now Available

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—White your congressman how for your red, white and blue copy of Congress' new code of ethics. The supply won't last, Heller says, unless sure he keeps one for himself.

Only 12,830 copies are to be printed, at a cost of $2,970. This includes a double envelope and cardboard stuffer for mailing.

Some members doubt the supply won't be enough. Others said it was too much.

What we need around here is not to print copies of a code of ethics but to do something about the so-called ethics that've plagued us," said Rep. J. B. Connelley (D-Texas) when the House was approving the order for printing.

Ready To Frame

This congressional bow to the highest moral principles in government comes engrossed in gold on the best paper and ready for framing. It makes reassuring reading and possibly is just what you will want on your wall as you follow the daily disclosures of nepotism, front porch rentals and other payroll practices of some of the members of Congress.

The code, which says public office is a public trust, also was adopted by Congress last year when the members were about to undergo developments in their private lives rather than the legislative branch of the government. And don't get the idea the code is a decision to print it up in three colors and "white" represents Congress' only reaction to the congressional payroll disclosures.

Take the recent disclosure of the House. Under a barrage of questions about how House members may have applied the $150 monthly allowance they can draw for running an office back in the district, he acted forthrightly to head off possible scandal. He looked up the records.

But the secrecy ban didn't last long. Several congressmen were tested. The clerk, after consulting with Speaker Sam Rayburn, opened the records under new regulations requiring anyone in speaking them to state his reason and identity.

Other Reactions

The public also can see the books on what each House member does with the $37,500 or so we give him each year to hire for life help.

In the Senate, where payroll records are secret, some Republican members considered whether sensibilities of the other senators would be offended if an individual member saw fit to make his own salary list public.

No decision was reached immediately on this ticklish question, but it may be discussed again later, they say.

There have been other reactions. Rep. Steven V. Carter (D-Texas) cut his 10-year-old son's pay from $11,872 yearly to about half that. Rep. Randall S. Harmon (D-Ind.), who rested his front porch to his taxpayers for $100 a month and hired his wife to tend office there, blamed the publicity he got on drunken Washington reporters. He had the evidence, too. He said no sane one of them a drink right in his office.

Rep. Leonard G. Wolf (D-Texas) cut the pay of his wife Marilyn from $13,344 to $13,083, a saving of $261 yearly. Wolf, at home this week during an Easter recess of Congress, had a chance to see how the voters think he and his wife have been doing at their reduced combined pay of $35,583.

Pending this, he made his own finding.

"We are proud of our accomplishments to date," he said in a newsletter, "and I must say, we've been without the tremendous assistance, the tireless effort of my wife. Even these accomplishments would not have been possible."

News Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus yesterday reappointed James R. Campbell of Hot Springs to the state Claims Commission until April 1, 1965.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The dismissal of Lt. John Howell from the Hot Springs police force was upheld last night by the Civil Service Commission.

The commission also gave Chief of Detectives Jerry Watkins 31 days to resign or face actions to remove him from the force.

Specific charges against the two have not been made public.

Howell had been discharged earlier by Police Chief John Ermy for conduct unbecoming an officer, neglect of duty and for being absent from duty without permission.

Watkins had been asked by the commission to resign effective yesterday. His attorney asked for the 31-day period.

MALTA (AP)—The U. S. Navy announced today the names of three Americans killed in a plane crash at Naples Tuesday.

They were: Capt. Thomas W. Hillis, Atkins, Ark.; Chief Petty Officer John Williams Schickel, San Diego, Calif.; and Aviation Machinist Mate William H. Ryder, Fairhope, Ala.

JUPITER ISLAND, Fla. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today is getting exercise as well as rest while he recuperates here from cancer.

He took a swim in the pool Tuesday and strolled about the grounds at the home of Undersecretary G. Douglas Dillon, his host.

The phone rang. It was Philip Varney. His voice was oddly cold and precise. "Mr. Masters asked me to enquire why you are not out here at the plant this afternoon."

"You tell Mr. Masters that I am busy with other matters at the present, but that I will be at the plant this evening, in person, Congratulations, Philip."

He didn't speak for a moment. Then: "I know what you think, but it isn't that way. It's not so. Ginny is Mr. Masters' daughter."

"Of course not," I said. "It's true love. So you still have a job?"

"Yes," he said stiffly.

"When's the happy day?"

"No date has been set. Mr. Masters wishes to discuss it with Mrs. Master when he returns."

Varney coughed. "Your plans for this evening, about uncovering certain evidence. Mr. Master feels that you should not have made such a statement in public, so to speak. If you will tell me, I will pass the information along to Mr. Masters. That is," he added hastily, "if you're not coming to the office this afternoon to inform him personally."

"I'm not coming to the office and I'm not telling anyone anything on the phone. In fact, Philip, I'm not telling anyone anything off the phone. Tell Mr. Masters I will give him a complete report — tomorrow, I hope."

Just before I went to sleep I thought of Sandy.

The ringing of the phone jarred me awake. I struggled a moment fighting the shrill sound. Then I reached out, grabbed the phone and snarled, "Yes?"

"Mr. Bennett?" It was a woman.

"Yes," I yawned.

"This is Dorothy Donovan. May I come up?"

"Come on up."

"Thank you."

"I had time to wash my face and comb my hair before she knocked on the door. I motioned to a chair. She sat down, crossed her legs. "I won't take much of your time," she said briskly. "I went to the hospital this afternoon with some papers for Mr. Ackerman to sign, and—"

"Was his wife there?" I lit a cigarette.

She frowned. "Yes," she said quietly. "Why do you ask?"

"She was there last evening. To. They seemed quite happy."

"Yes, she said."

"Was it serious? I asked. "Or were you just making a play for the boss for what it would get you?" I still felt mean.

She said coolly, "You're quite frank, aren't you?"

"Sometimes."

"I'll be frank, too," she said. "No. It wasn't serious. I don't love Howard Ackerman. I respect and admire him. He was lonely. He and his wife were not compatible. We were together every day. I am alone and I have a small daughter. I need security for myself and my daughter. If Howard wished to divorce his wife and marry me, why not?"

She smiled at me, too brightly. "Does that sound cold blooded?"

"A little."

"But, its over, she said in a brittle voice. "I saw that at the

Teenage Girls Make or Break Pop Records

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Teen age girls are the customers who make or break pop records right now and I suppose that's the principal reason for the low state of the music business.

They buy the singles and if you look at the chart of spring hits you'll find names like Frankie Avalon, Brook Benton, the Fleetwoods, The Coasters and Dotie Stevens heading the lists—most of them names unfamiliar to the post-war set.

Two of the current culture heroes of the post-war set are Jimmie Rodgers and Connie Francis and Tuesday night they were hospital. She's trying a new tactic — some kindness and understanding, and less self-sympathy, for a change.

"Forget Ackerman, I said. "It should be easy for you to find someone else."

She smiled. "Thank you, sir."

She made a grimace of distaste. "No, thank you. Besides, I didn't come here to discuss my personal problems. I'm here on business. From the brief case she took a pencil and note book."

"I told Mr. Ackerman about the meeting this morning, and what you said about your plan for tonight — you know? The positive evidence you're going to secure."

Mr. Ackerman instructed me to ask you what evidence you have, what your plan is, and to give it to him this afternoon. She poised the pencil over the pad "Don't be afraid to talk fast I'm a good stenographer."

"I'm sure you are, but there will be no dictation today."

She looked up and frowned. — "But you're working for Mr. Ackerman. He has a right to know what you have in mind."

So does Mr. Masters. I didn't tell him, either."

She closed the note book, replaced it and the pencil in the brief case, stood up and smoothed her skirt over her hips. "Very well I will tell Mr. Ackerman that you refused to obey his instructions."

I drove out of Maple Hill in the fading dusk. A few miles from the town, and still along the river, I reached a grassy bluff dotted with squatty pines. I turned off the road and stopped.

When it was black dark, I snapped my third cigarette out the window and over the lip of the bluff into the dark running water. I started the motor, backed up, and drove toward Maple Hill.

I was committed. I had stood up in the council room and invited a killer to come and get me — tonight.

I drove to the Buckeye Abrasives plant and stopped before the closed steel gate. The guard came out of the gate house. I said, "I want to go inside for a while."

He fingered his toothbrush mustache, embarrassed. "Mr. Masters called about you. I can't let you in. I'm sorry."

"So I'm on the black list again?"

"It looks that way. I can't help it."

(To Be Continued)

(Copyright 1953, by Robert Martin)

bunched together for a new NBC TV series, The Jimmie Rodgers Show.

I can only assume that the intent of Rodgers' cigarette sponsor is to package a show that will appeal to teenagers and thus further the use of smoking among the kids. This may sound a trifle farfetched, but consider one other recent straw in the wind: Another cigar firm has signed teenage idol Dick Clark for a fall ABC-TV panel show and there would seem to be indications here of the beginnings of an underground drive to nicotineize our citizens early.

As for the Rodgers show, it signals TV's first step back toward radio. Visually, it is a two-by-four, cheap and unimaginative. Musically, it is standard pop—which means slight. Tuesday night there was only one tune — "Black Is The Color Of My True Love's Hair" — which had any glimmer and it was slicked to make it commercially palatable.

Rodgers himself is an amiable young man — on TV everyone is an amiable young man who isn't — an amiable young lady with an average voice and a pitiful desire to please. Tuesday night he spent a good whop of time posed in front of a backdrop of phony books, a rather subtle method of endearing him to the simple-minded. Here, obviously was an owner of books (wealthy, who had no intention of ever actually reading them (a regular habit).

The show was its own best fan, Rodgers' honeytongued compliments after each of his performers. (Really a chore — "Really great, Connie!" "Boy, they sure played that nice!" And when Rodgers choral, announcer Dick Leacock did the honors — "Ah, great, Jim, really wonderful!" "Ah, great, Jimmy, and that Kirby Stone Four is the very end."

I would say all of these assessments were somewhat less than accurate.

Short Shots: Tuesday night's CBS-TV Arthur Godfrey show from Hawaii was a pleasant if undistinguished exercise. Alfred Ryder turned in an awfully good performance as the lead in Tuesday night's ABC-TV Alcoa Presents and the show was pretty gripping, too.

The Channel Swim: CBS-TV is bidding for "Davy Jones Locker," a Bill and Cora Baird puppet show currently on Broadway. It's wanted for a one hour special next fall. Peggy Cass of the NBC-TV Jack Paar show will star in "Bells Are Ringing" at the Dallas Summer Theater this summer.

MGM and Talent Associates, the independent firm which turns out Armstrong Circle Theatre and DuPont Show of the Month, hope to coproduce a series of nine specials for next season for TV.
